

UBC LANGUAGE SCIENCES PRESENTS

LANGUAGE SCIENCE TALKS

A series of talks by prominent language sciences researchers from around the world.

THE UNIVERSITY OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

THE SSHRC GOLD MEDAL LECTURE SERIES

All talks are free and will be held in UBC's Beaty Biodiversity Museum.

For more information visit www.languagesciences.ubc.ca

Photo: SSHRC

KRISTA BYERS-HEINLEIN

Concordia University

One baby, two languages: How infants navigate and learn from bilingual environments

January 24, 2017 | 3:30 pm

MICHAEL C. FRANK

Stanford University

Bigger data about smaller people: Studying children's language learning at scale

February 7, 2017 | 3:30 pm

JENNY SAFFRAN

University of Wisconsin

Statistical learning and early language development

February 28, 2017 | 3:30 pm

SANDRA WAXMAN

Northwestern University

What's it all about: How (and how early) do infants link language and cognition?

March 14, 2017 | 3:30 pm

SIMON E. FISHER

Max Planck Institute for Psycholinguistics

A molecular genetic perspective on speech and language

March 28, 2017 | 3:30 pm