

LAB OPEN HOUSE

Clinical Labs

Centre for Collaborative Research on Hoarding

Using a community-based approach to research the cognitive, social, and emotional aspects of compulsive hoarding.

Room 1709 | PI: Dr. Sheila Woody

Depression, Anxiety, and Stress Lab

Investigating cognitive, emotional, and biological responses to stress, depression, and anxiety disorders.

Room 1716 | PI: Dr. Joelle LeMoult

Developmental Labs

Early Development Research Group

A group of six research centres studying the development of language, cognition, and social understanding in infants and children.

Room 2009 | EDRG office

Infant Studies Centre

Using behavioural and neuroimaging techniques to study language acquisition in babies and infants.

Room 1401 | PI: Dr. Janet Werker

Language Development Centre

Researching how children learn new words and the meanings that they assign to these words.

Room 1301 | PI: Dr. Geoff Hall

Cognition Labs

Attentional Neuroscience Lab

Researching how we shape visual information using fMRI and ERP technology to study attention's relationship to aging, mobility, and more.

Room 3407 | PI: Dr. Todd Handy

Motivated Cognition Lab

Using EEG, fMRI, genotyping, and eye tracking to understand what we attend to, learn, and remember.

Room 2405 | PI: Dr. Rebecca Todd

Visual Cognition Lab

Investigating the way the human visual system uses the light entering the eyes to create a variety of perceptual experiences.

Room 3204 | PI: Dr. Ron Rensink

UBC Vision Lab

Exploring how the human mind selects information and how the external world is represented inside and outside of conscious awareness.

Room 3302 | PI: Dr. James Enns

Social Personality Labs

Emotion and Self Lab

Studying the evolutionary function, nonverbal expression, and psychological structure of emotions and self.

Room 2020 | PI: Dr. Jessica Tracy

Reactions to Environmental Stress and Trauma Lab

Exploring human resiliency to understand how people cope with isolation and the world around us.

Room 4038B (Pond/Audain) | PI: Dr. Peter Suedfeld